Description for Brighten Your Day with Peace Lily in Ceramic Pot

Plant height: 7 - 12 inches

Plant spread: 4 - 6 inches

Peace Lily clump-growing herbaceous perennial plant which produces white flowers which look like the hood of a cobra. Leaves are shiny and glossy, attractive even with no spathes. Peace lilies are sturdy plants with glossy, green oval leaves that narrow to a point. The leaves rise directly from the soil. The long-lasting flowers start out pale green and slowly turn creamy white as they open.

The peace lily is, of course, the plant symbolizing peace, innocence, purity, and rebirth. When you give a peace lily as a gift, you are, in effect, wishing peace and tranquility on them. This is an especially crucial benefit if you are sending the gift of live plants to someone who is environmentally conscious.

Caring for Brighten Your Day with Peace Lily in Ceramic Pot

- Keep the soil moist at all times, but do not overwater.
- During the winter fertilize every 6 weeks or so.
- If you want flowers to appear, but none have, move the plant to a darker room.
- Peace lilies should be re-potted when the root growth has overfilled the container.
- Use a humus rich potting soil to repot the peace lily.
- To help the roots to retain soil and prevent the root tearing, re-pot the plant when the soil is somewhat moist.

Typical uses of Brighten Your Day with Peace Lily in Ceramic Pot

Special features: The Peace Lily is no different, if you put it in a bright spot without direct sunlight, growth will be rapid and robust. Of course as the common stereotype states, it will survive, adapt and grow (albeit slowly) even if you pick a darker spot in your home for it instead.

Ornamental use: Peace lilies are used as the ornamental purpose.
