What makes it special

Want to help fertilize the planet and have fun doing it? Seed balls could be the answer. Seed balls are seeds wrapped up in a ball of soil and compost. Seed balls should be scattered on the ground and forgotten about. They will sprout when there is enough rain. There is no need to plough the land and plant them, as they are already surrounded by soil, nutrients, and microorganisms. The clay shell protects the seeds from birds, ants, and rats.

It is the best gift as you are giving something green to grow. Seed balls help in developing biodiversity.

Planting procedure of seed ball

You can plant these seed balls in the pot or can directly throw in the garden.

Put the seed balls in the pot.

the pot in a sunny location.

Water the seed balls regularly until the seeds germinate.

Do not bury these balls in the soil.

Seeds will germinate in 7-15 days.

For adding fun, throw them along the road or in the garden by using a slingshot and they will germinate by themselves once it rains.
