Description

Description for Golden Penda

As well as being easy on the eye, the flower is popular with nectar feeding birds, such as parrots and lorikeets. The stamens of the Golden Penda flower can grow to three centimetres long - combine this with its bright yellow colour and you have a real tropical beauty.

The Golden Penda can grow up to 15 metres in height and yields a hard, durable timber, but if pruned annually it can also be contained to shrub size.
