

Safed moosli - Plant

Safed moosli

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Sales price R 123,456

Discount

Ask a question about this product

Description Chlorophytum borivilianum is a herb with lanceolate leaves, from tropical wet forests in peninsular India. The Hindi name is safed musli It is cultivated and eaten

Common name: Safed moosli

Color: white

Bloom time: July.

Height: 15-20 cm

Difficulty level: easy to grow

Planting & Care

afed Musli is a medicinal plant that is native to India. Its botanical name is chlorophytum borivilianum and belongs to Liliaceae family. Safed Musli is a herb with linear leaves appearing over ground with the advent of summer rains. Flowers white. It perenates by fleshy roots/root-tubers. Tuberous root is used in ayurvedic medicin. Cultivation of safed musli is more profitable than many of the traditional crops.

Sunlight: Full Sun

Soil: well-drained soil

Water: medium

Temprature: (35°C and above

Fertilizer: Apply any organic fertilizer

Care:

- The crop matures in about 90 days under cultivation.
- At maturity the leaves start yellowing and ultimately dry up from the collar part and fall down.
- The crop could thus be harvested when leaves have dried which occurs in the months of September/October.
- During digging of plants, fleshy root bunches should be lifted form the soil.
-

Use

Medicinal use:

- aphrodisiac

Culinary use:

- leaves

Ornamental use:

- The plant is used for ornamental purpose

Note:

for medicinal use, please consult appropriate doctor before use.

Reference:

<http://www.krishisewa.com/articles/production-technology/198-safedmusli-cultivation.html>

<http://www.flowersofindia.net/risearch/search.php?query=%09Safed+moosli+&stpos=0&stype=AND>