Description Tecoma stans is a species of flowering perennial shrub in the trumpet vine family, Bignoniaceae, that is native to the Americas. Common names include yellow trumpetbush, yellow bells, yellow elder, ginger-thomas.

Common name: Yellow elder, Trumpet bush, Yellow bells, Ginger-thomas

Color: Showy, Fragrant

Bloom time: June to frost

Height: 3.00 to 5.00 feet

Difficulty level: easy to grow

Planting & Care

Allow the soil to dry between waterings. Potted plants should be given minimal water when not in active growth.

Sunlight: Full Sun to Partial Shade

Soil: well-drained soil

Water: Medium

Temperature: 28°F

Fertilizer: Apply any organic fertilizer

Care:

- It grows as a densely branched shrub or small tree.
- This evergreen shrub or small tree grows as high as 15-20 feet, but can be pruned mercilessly, after flowering, to keep it compact.

Care:

- To keep the plants tidy and continuously blooming, it is recommended that the clusters of seed pods ("green beans") be cut off.

Special Feature:

Winter hardy to USDA Zones 9-11. In St. Louis, plants should be grown in the ground as annuals or in pots/containers that may be overwintered indoors. Plants need well-drained soils in full sun. Although established plants in the wild tolerate dry soils, container plants and new plantings need regular moisture. Deadhead flowers to prolong bloom. Remove seed pods to encourage rebloom.
Use

Note:

No serious insect or disease problems. Watch for spider mites and whiteflies on indoor plants.
