Planting and care

With purple heart plant, propagating cuttings is as simple as sticking them directly in moist garden or potting soil, and keeping them moist until you see signs of new growth. Take cuttings from indoor purple heart plants whenever it is actively growing and from outdoor plants in the spring or summer.

| Sunlight | Soil | Water | Temperature | Fertilizer |
| Bright light. Some direct sun is fine, but keep your plant shaded from strong summer sun. | Peat moss-based potting mix. | Water thoroughly, then allow the top 1 in (2.5 cm) to dry out between waterings. | 18 C - 26 C | N-P-K ratio 10-10-10 |

Caring for Tradescantia Pallida

Let the sun shine in. Grow your plant in bright light year-round for good foliage color. It will grow in lower light, but the leaves will be more green than purple. Give it some direct sun, but shade it from noonday sun in summer to avoid scorching its leaves.

Typical uses of Tradescantia Pallida

Special features: Groundcover or edging that provides color and contrast to other plants. Excellent in containers. Downward-trailing stems are ideal for hanging baskets. Rock gardens, borders fronts, wall plantings.

Ornamental use: The plant is used for ornamental purpose.
